

—What's NEW—

Low Carbon City Goes Smarter: NCKU, the SIA, the ECCT, and Tainan City Cooperate in Shalun

On September 10th, NCKU signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the European Chamber of Commerce Taiwan (ECCT) on a MoU Signing Ceremony, where the ECCT also signed a fresh new MoU with the Shalun Innovation Alliance (SIA), an industry-government-academia platform initiated by NCKU.

Read More

Enhance Future Combat Capability: NCKU Signs a Memorandum of Understanding on Taiwan-Vietnam Talents Cultivation

Since multinational corporations are eager to recruit top talents who embody international mobility, NCKU-Butterfly Program and ASEAN Talent Cultivation Program provide funds, amounting up to 1,000 U.S. dollars (30,000 NT dollars), for a total of 6 students from Vietnam each semester. Moreover, NCKU will offer opportunities of company visits and business internships to Vietnamese international students to explore more career options after they returned to Vietnam.

Read More

Wetland Reflections from a Global Gaze: NCKU International Students Submerged in Discussions About the Tainan Salt Field

The Department of Hydraulic and Ocean Engineering, NCKU, brings students closer to the core of their studies in courses offered by Professor Wang Hsiao-Wen, Interdisciplinary Principles in Sustainable Development and Management of Wetland Environments, in which solutions are sought to resolve wetland restoration issues. Students from NCKU invited by Taijiang National Park are learning first-hand what the current wetland restoration scene looks like in Tainan Sicao and the Qidu Salt Fields.

Read More

Learning Across Borders: NCKU International Summer School Brings Knowledge to International Students Via Full Online Courses

College of Management, NCKU, welcomed international students to the 2020 International Summer School featuring virtual courses on the topic of “International Entrepreneurship for Global Challenge: Empowering Tomorrow’s Innovators”, with a focus on social enterprise management covering a broad range of economic, social, and environmental management concerns related to water quality, business models, biological systems, and needed behavioral changes.

Read More

Crossing Boundaries with Impactful Research NCKU Overseas Hub in Malaysia Hosts Forum Webinar

Amidst the COVID-19 pandemic affecting the world, life has slowed down and this has been described as the new normal. Despite this challenging period, the NCKU Taiwan continues to fulfil its planned agenda to foster and strengthen collaboration with its overseas partner universities. On August 13th, NCKU Overseas Hub in Malaysia launched its facebook and hosted a forum webinar to discuss the various aspects of international research collaboration with honorable representatives from University of Malaya (UM), British Council Malaysia, Collaborative Research in Engineering, Science and Technology Center (CREST) and NCKU Alumni Association of Malaysia.

Read More